Necessary Institutional Reforms

- The Strategy's holistic approach requires a new institutional framework in order to "meet the needs of future generations."
  - ➔ The Strategy calls for the establishment of:
    - An Interdepartmental Committee on Sustainable Development, headed by the Prime Minister.
    - A Sustainable Development Network, made up of groups of trained experts in Sustainable Development, with a hub in every relevant public institution.
    - A Consultative Council for Sustainable Development, a group of specialists from the academic sphere, research institutes, and representatives from civil society which will analyze the impact of Sustainable Development public policy.
- The Strategy also proposes helping in establishing a Coalition for Sustainable Development with representatives from Civil Society.

Implementation and Monitorization

- The Department of Sustainable Development is currently collaborating with the National Institute of Statistics on revising Romania's Sustainable Development indicator set.
- An Action Plan will be drafted which aims to implement the Strategy's objectives. It will take into account the proposals received during the consultation and public debate phase.
- The Department of Sustainable Development will draft regular reports to the EU and the UN.

The Romanian Presidency at the EU CONS

- 2019 presents the opportunity for Romania to carry out, during the first semester, the Presidency of the Council of Europe.
- Sustainable Development will play a pivotal role, not just for Romania's upcoming presidency, but for the future of the Union as a whole.
- The Department of Sustainable Development is currently preparing for the Romanian Presidency.

The 2030 Agenda and the European Union

- For the European Union to maintain its leading role in implementing the 2030 Agenda, its needs:
  - A vision, a plan, and targets for the 2020-2030 period.
  - Firm political commitments
  - Integrating these commitments in every EU policy
  - A institutional framework that will help in achieving these tasks
  - A monitorization mechanism
  - Partnership within the EU and with other states.

The 2030 Agenda and the European Union

- At the end of 2018, the EU Commission will publish its Reflection Paper which will present the Commission's vision on implementing the 2030 Agenda.
- An EU report for the High Level Policy Forum (HLPF) of 2019 on the implementation of the Agenda externally (Joint Synthesis Report) is being prepared. At the same time it wants to report on internal implementation as well.

The EU Parliamentarian Dimension

- The European Parliament has a significant role in implementing the 2030 Agenda, representing the ideal forum through which the SDGs can be discussed and promoted in the spirit of SDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals.
- Considering the fact that EU legislation requires the approval of the EU parliament, the role of the Parliament is vital in ensuring that Sustainability is promoted for the next 12 years.
- This will ensure policy coherence by integrating the SDGs in every EU policy.

The 2030 Agenda and the European Union

- A representative of the Department will chair, during the Romanian Presidency, the Working Party on the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development at the Council of the European Union. This working party is responsible with the implementation of the 2030 Agenda both internally and externally.
- The Department, together with the Romanian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and in partnership with UNECE, will organize on the 16th of April, in Bucharest, a high-level conference on Partnership on Implementing the 2030 Agenda (EU, Eastern Partnership, Central Asia, Western Balkans).
